

Diceberg Alley

A Polyominoes-Based “Push Your Luck” Strategy Game

Canada’s famous “iceberg alley” is now partly frozen. Form an expedition to navigate among icebergs and safely collect newly discovered, valuable “dicecubes”.

Play on a configurable board representing a partly-frozen Atlantic Ocean. Roll dice to match and route iceflows between icebergs. Collect dicecubes. Avoid the giant walrus, narwhal and hungry polar bears. Dispatch a rogue ship to steal your opponent’s dicecubes.

- Build, move or use an action card.
- Roll dice, lay icesheets to icebergs.
- Move your explorer.
- Collect dicecubes.
- Avoid dangerous denizens.
- Sabotage your opponent(s).

Use action cards to your advantage to thwart your opponent while you navigate obstacles that can block your way to success.

Collect the most dicecube points to win.

Laser Components: 36 interlocking gameboards, four sets of 30 polyomino icesheets, 36 icebergs, 4 explorers, 4 denizens: giant walrus, 2 polar bears, narwhal, one rogue ship, 20 action cards, 36 acrylic dicecubes, two sets of dice.

A route building and collection game for the whole family.
